We offer one year Post Graduate Certificate Course in Medical Laboratory Technology (CMLT) & six months certificate course in Medical Laboratory Assistant (CMLA) affiliated with the Gujarat Council of Vocational Training (GCVT). A medical technologist is the practical arm of a Pathologist.

The subjects covered for the above course include General Medical Technology, Hematology, Histopathology etc. Also, periodical educational visits to related centres of Gujarat State are provided, thereby giving vast knowledge and greater insight into the courses to the students.

The hospital is constantly upgrading the departments by renovating and modernising the infrastructure facilities like canteen, pharmacy, parking lots, garden, environment etc. The Hospital is also constantly upgrading its various departments by installing and / or replacing existing machines, equipments and attachments.

Kanoria Centre for Medical Education is also providing more and more facilities for the students and introducing new courses from time to time, thereby increasing the student strength.

All this is being done from donations received primarily from the Kanoria family, friends and associates. The Trust is always looking for donations for upgradation and starting of new departments in the hospital as well as new courses in KCME.

Kanoria Hospital & Kanoria Centre for Medical Education are doing all these developments with a purpose to help people in getting first class treatment, and education at affordable rates.

Kanoria Centre is also looking for collaborations from like minded institutions who can use infrastructure facilities, including developed land, and construct their own independent building or annexe or wing on a revenue sharing basis, for which full co-operation including Management rights and display of the institution name at an appropriate place will be considered.
